Lily's Story

I'm Lily, at the age of 9 I started having severe aches and pains in my shoulders and elbows. A blood test showed this was because I was suffering from ALL, a childhood form of leukaemia.

My treatment started straight away which meant weekly visits to Cardiff. I didn't like being on steroids because they made me feel really hungry and upset.

I was unable to go to school so Anne a play therapist from Kids Cancer Charity would visit to spend time with me. We talked a lot and she really put my mind at ease as she helps lots of children who go through the same thing as me.

Now I am back in school and also enjoying dancing again.
